Funeral Consumers Alliance of Greater Kansas City

FCA REPORT:

FALL 2011

Some cooperate, some don't in cemetery price survey

By Steve Nicely FCA-GKC president

Welcome to our metropolitan-wide survey of cemetery prices and services, our first in many years. You will notice something strange when you open the newsletter to the survey on pages 4 and 5. There are about as many blank lines after the cemetery names as there are filled-in lines.

Why is this so? We can only speculate, but first we must express gratitude to the cemetery operators who filled out their surveys and sent them in. They seem to recognize the function of the survey as a public service, which is the sole reason for the existence of the Funeral Consumers Alliance of Greater Kansas City. The responders were willing to lay out their prices for all to see, even the competition. What do you think, will the blankline cemetery operators visit our website, www.funeralskc.org, for a peek at the responders' numbers?

Now go to our website for the Funeral Price Survey of funeral homes in the metropolitan area and see that virtually all of the price lines are filled in. That is because the Federal Trade Commission's Funeral Rule requires funeral homes to provide price lists to all who asks for them, but there is no such thing as a "cemetery rule" covering cemeteries. Should there be? The Funeral Consumers Alliance believes so.

FCA-GKC observed its 50th anniversary last month (see Jim Fitzpatrick's story) demonstrating our long history educating the public about the funeral home and burial industries. We appreciate reputable, ethical, service-oriented providers. We know price isn't everything. There are some well-managed, beautifully maintained cemeteries in the area with well-endowed maintenance trust funds that charge higher prices than others. Sometimes people pay for what they get. Still, price is the basic beginning point in a consumer's examination of cemetery options and we think providing this information publicly is a good practice.

One cemetery operator in the Gardner area wouldn't even give us an address. We were told they didn't want people outside Gardner trying to buy plots. What about the several thousand people in Gardner? Wouldn't they like to know? That is why we chose to include the names and contact information for the blanks as well as the responders. We think consumers have a right to know about both categories.

There is another reason for including the blanks. We want to leave the opportunity open for them to include their numbers in the future. This survey will have a life on www.funeralskc.org after it has been printed in this newsletter. We

Stalter keynotes Day of the Dead Annual meeting

Bill Stalter

Most people pick a cemetery based on its appearance, whether family members are buried there and its religious affiliation. Those are all good reasons, but not nearly good enough to avoid future pitfalls, says William Stalter, an Overland Park attorney and a national authority on death-care issues. Stalter, who will be the keynote speaker Nov. 1 at the 50th anniversary meeting of the Funeral Consumers Alliance of Greater Kansas City, has a list of questions for consumers to ask cemetery representatives including:

- Do you maintain a trust fund for continued grounds maintenance after the cemetery is full?
- If so, Who is the trustee? What is its market value? Does it meet state regulations? Is it audited? May I see a report?
- If I buy my space with installment payments, under what circumstances would I lose the money I paid if I fall behind?
- Can the cemetery sell my space to someone else if I fall behind?
- Can I return my space for a refund if I move to another state?
- If I purchase a space, then decide to be cremated and have my ashes placed in a niche instead, will I be credited for the price difference?

Cemetery focus on Day of the Dead

Honest, consumer-friendly cemetery operators should have no problem answering such questions, said Stalter, who was quoted last year in a Consumers Digest investigative report on cemetery scams. For instance, he said in the report, "It should be a red flag if the operator can't explain what state requirements are."

Stalter will address those and other issues at FCA-GKC's November 1 meeting from 3 to 4:30 p.m. at the Belvoir Winery, 1325 Odd Fellows Road, Liberty. Another major topic at the meeting will be FCA-GKC's survey of Kansas City area cemeteries printed in this newsletter. November 1st in many traditions is recognized as the Day of the Dead. A silent auction will feature several Day of the Dead items. Certificates of attendance for one clock hour will be given to all social workers.

Directions to Belvoir Winery:

The winery is located in Liberty, MO's Odd Fellows Historic District next to Missouri 291 highway. From downtown Kansas City, take I-35 to the Liberty exit at Missouri 152. Turn east on 152 one mile to 291, then turn right (south) on 291 a few miles to Claywoods Drive. Turn left (east) on Claywoods Drive, then an immediate right on Odd Fellows Drive at the T into the winery.

Belvoir Winery is the long-held dream of Dr. John L. Bean and his wife, Marsha, to turn the Odd Fellows Historic District into a unique event location. The name Belvoir is French for Beautiful view. The winery's first vines were planted 15 years ago. The FCA-GKC meeting will be held in the southernmost and oldest building on the property. Yes, wine will be available and tours of the building will be conducted after the meeting.

He watches our pennies and spends our dollars

By Jim Fitzpatrick FCA-GKC treasurer

The "high finance division" of the Funeral Consumers Alliance of Greater Kansas City brings you good news:

In the wake of our spring/summer newsletter, we received 41 contributions for a total of $1,428.50.

As treasurer of the organization, I was very pleased with that result, and, speaking for the seven-member board of directors, we sincerely thank you. In the last newsletter (available on our website – www.funeralskc.org), I laid out where we stood and our hopes for improving and solidifying our financial situation.

Your response provided a big push. That said, however, we have no reserves and just $1,252.63 in our checking account (Country Club Bank) at this writing. As I reported in the last newsletter, it costs $1,000 to $1,200 for printing and mailing of each newsletter, so the cost of the newsletter you are reading will again take us down to near zero balance.

As you can see, this edition of the newsletter is very special: We are including in it the results of a cemetery survey – the first such survey we have done since 1997. I hope you will conclude that, by doing this survey, we are always trying to expand our horizons and improve our services to you, the consumers. The survey took a lot of time and patient work, but today you see the results.

So, once again we ask you to please consider additional contributions to help us continue to provide what we trust you regard as a valuable service to the public. As you know, we have no paid staff, and none of us board members receives pay of any kind, except for reimbursement of organization-related expenses, such as purchases of supplies and stamps.

You can contribute either by credit card on our website (www.funeralskc. org) or by putting a check in the self-addressed envelope that is included in this newsletter.

You might notice that we have a new address, again. Earlier this year, after we stopped having our board meetings at Unitarian Universalist Church in Kansas City, which we also had used as our address for years, we changed the mailing address to my house. That is not the ideal situation, however, and now we have a post office box in the Brookside area, not far from my house. The address is P.O. Box 7021 Kansas City, MO 64113.

But back to finances...In recent months we have had several significant one-time expenses, including payment of almost $500 to an accountant who helped us with renewal of our 501(c)(3) status and $100 for the IRS renewal fee.

We also paid $193 to the national Funeral Consumers Alliance. That amount represented 15 percent of the second-quarter contributions that we received. That is our agreement with the national organization, based in South Burlington, VT: We give them 15 percent of our contributions to help them advance the Funeral Consumers Alliance goals nationwide.

As I said in the last newsletter, we are starting, in this edition, to list the names and cities of residence of our contributors, unless they request that their names not be listed.

So, here is the list of most of our contributors in recent months:

Joel McGill, Wichita; James and Janice Grebe, Shawnee Mission; Donald Puett, Overland Park; Philip And Betty Calabrese, Overland Park; Sandra Myers, Kansas City; Tom Woodbury, Kansas City; William Reitinger, Overland Park; Paul M. Galatas, Kansas City; Jess and Lois Rowland, Kansas City; Virginia Kenney, Lenexa; Jan Holdeman, Independence; Joyce Bradley, Kearney; Don Baken, Liberty; Don Robertson, Kansas City; Dixie and John Baum, Lenexa; Ruth K. Gieschen, Lee's Summit; Ivan Waite, Raymore; Mary and Henry Droll, Kansas City; Geral and Dorothy Culp, Blue Springs; Kermit Karns, Imperial, NE.

Forrest Bartlett, Independence; John H. Griffith, Gladstone; William and Esther Boothe, Independence; Doris Yonker, Kansas City; Judy Reynoso, Washington, MO; Lenore Carroll, Kansas City; Virginia L. Powers, Shawnee Mission; William Mauer, Independence; Cremation Center of Kansas City, Shawnee Mission; Sherman Cox, Blue Springs; Jack and Barbara Chafee, Oak Grove; Mark Pikell, Merriam (in memory of Robert Pikell); Peter Lott, Kansas City; The O'Laughlin Group, Kansas City; Jane Wilkes, Kansas City; Ray and Kay Howa, Mission; and Jan Cohen, Kansas City.

Thanks to all of you!

Research yields a surprising discovery

By Jim Fitzpatrick FCA-GKC treasurer

We darn near missed our 50th anniversary.

In fact, until a few months ago, none of the eight members of the FCA-GKC board of directors knew how old the organization was. We knew it had been around at least a few decades, but we didn't know when our organization was founded.

Then, as I was taking the necessary steps to renew our non-profit status with the IRS, I began scouring the Secretary of State's electronic records on FCA-GKC.

And way back -- way down the list of various state filings over the years -- I found Articles of Incorporation, which we had lost track of. It was then that I began learning about the history of the Funeral Consumers Alliance of Greater Kansas City.

The articles were filed on Aug. 31, 1961, and the name of the organization was Greater Kansas City Memorial Society. Reflecting the urban nature of Kansas City at the time, seven of the eight members of the first board of directors were Kansas City, MO, residents. (Now, four of our eight board members live in suburban cities.)

The three incorporating members were Dr. Harold Buschman, Dr. John McLeod and Lowell L. Smithson. The other board members were Ray Watson, Donna Adcock, Frank Baxter, Raymond Bragg, Fred Havens and Thorpe Menn.

I'm sure many of your readers recognize some of those names. The only names that I recognize are Fred Havens, president of Havens Steel, and Thorpe Menn, who was bookreview editor of The Kansas City Star for many years. (I was a reporter and editor at The Star for 37 years before retiring in 2006. When I started, in 1969, Thorpe Menn was still working at the paper.)

Article II or the Articles of Incorporation spelled out the organization's purposes. Those purposes included...

To promote and foster by education, publication and all other lawful means, dignity, simplicity and economy in funeral arrangements and in the disposition of the remains of deceased humans.

- To conduct, arrange, assist in conducting, or assist in arranging simple and dignified religious services upon the death of members or others.
- To make contracts, solicit contributions and borrow money to accomplish any or all of the purposes.

Over the decades, the organization's purposes have remained essentially the same. Our mission statement, which can be found on the home page of our website, www.funeralskc.org, is:

"To educate and support individuals and families in making informed decisions about death-related services, consistent with their values and lifestyles."

A section called "Our Values," also on our website, says that we believe:

- Individuals/families have the right to make informed choices concerning funeral/memorial options.
- High ethical standards in the funeral industry are a consumer right.
- Consumers can make appropriate decisions without severe financial consequences when they make choices free from vested interests.
- Price/cost of a funeral/memorial is not a measure of love or respect for the deceased.
- Individuals/families can make better plans when all parties are involved before necessity arises.

Perhaps the most prominent figure in the history of our organization was the Rev. Stuart Whitney. Whitney, a founder of the reStart homeless shelter in the early 1980s, was FCA president for many years, until he died in 2006.

In the winter 2006 edition of our newsletter, several people wrote tributes about Whitney, a warm and soft-hearted man.

Brad Stratton of Overland Park wrote: "Stuart's legacy of compassion and understanding will live on through the many lives that he touched while on earth. Those of us that had the privilege of knowing him have been both touched and blessed by the experience of his friendship."

Succeeding Whitney as president was Bev McGill, who has been on the board for 16 years. McGill, who stepped down as president last year, recruited several current board members, including Steve Nicely, who succeeded her as president. Nicely also is a retired Kansas City Star reporter.

Besides McGill, Nicely and I, the other board members are Sally King, vice president; Linda Johnson, secretary; Sue Fine, Nancy Petersen and Pam Thomas.

We board members are proud to serve the Funeral Consumers Alliance in trying to help educate people about their rights in regard to funerals and other end-of-life decisions. We hope we and our successors can continue to offer people sound advice and guidance for another 50 years... at least.

The prices displayed above have been taken from the FCA Cemetery Survey provided by each of the cemetery operators. Although the information was often difficult to interpret, the FCA-GKC has made a good faith attempt to report the price information as accurately as possible. Consumers are y advised to check with the provider of their choice to confirm the accuracy of individual prices. Contact FCA-GKC at 816-561-6322 or email tea.gkc@gmail.com. Web address: funeralskc.org will modify it, expand it and correct it. Yes, it will need correcting and modifying and clarifying. I couldn't begin to guess all the hours and special meetings our cemetery survey committee spent on this project, but we are sure the results aren't perfect. We apologize in advance for any errors and we promise to correct them on the website. Our goal is to make it a comprehensive and accurate picture of the area's cemeteries.

FCA-GKC vice president Sally King, now in her seventh month of pregnancy, coordinated the massive effort. Lyle VanVleet of Shawnee assembled the charts for us, making good use of his tax preparer's talent for handling numbers. Kathleen Palmer, a Stanford graduate student in gerontology doing her internship at K.U. Med's Landon Center on Aging, also joined the effort. Board members Linda Johnson, Bev McGill and Jim Fitzpatrick and volunteer Bonnie Fairchild also joined the effort. We cannot thank them enough.

Consumer friendly actions for cemeteries

Lisa Carlson, executive director, Funeral Ethics Organization, makes the following suggestions for cemetery operators:

- Permit families who wish to do so to fill the grave by hand. In fact, encouraging them would be a therapeutic gesture.
- Set aside areas of your cemetery for "green" burials body burial directly in the earth without vaults or caskets required.
- Have a policy to repurchase unwanted lots.
- Have a printed price list for all goods and services you offer and make it available on inquiry and before any purchase. Post it on the internet on your web site. Yes, you should have a web site.
- Don't require urn vaults for cremated remains. At least give families a choice.

Generous burial options for veterans and families

By Bev McGill and Linda Johnson FCA-GKC board members

The United States has a long tradition of honoring its military veterans and their families with final resting places in its 131 national cemeteries in 39 states.

At no cost to the family, burial of a veteran at national cemeteries includes the grave site, opening and closing of the grave, grave liner, perpetual care, a government headstone or marker, a burial flag, and a Presidential Memorial Certificate. National cemeteries will honor burial traditions of Muslim, Jewish, Native American, and various other religions with unique burial requests. Some or all of the cost of transporting the deceased to the national cemetery may be reimbursed.

Burial benefits available for spouses and dependents buried in a national cemetery include burial with the veteran, perpetual care, and the spouse or dependent's name and date of birth and death inscribed on the veteran's headstone, at no cost to the family. Eligible spouses and dependents may be buried even if they predecease the veteran. Information on who is eligible for burial in a Veteran's Cemetery is posted at www. cem.va.gov or call 800-827-1000. Veterans or their families must be prepared to document their service. and that their discharge was not "dishonorable"

The Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) National Cemetery Administration operates three national cemeteries in Kansas: one at Fort Leavenworth, one in Leavenworth near the VA Medical Center and one at Fort Scott (316-223-2840.) Brochures and information on veteran's burial are available by calling the Leavenworth sites at 913-758-4105.

In addition, there are four Kansas state veterans cemeteries located in Fort Dodge, Wakeeney, Winfield and Manhattan. A partnership of state and U.S. governments provide essentially the same services.

Missouri has national veterans cemeteries in St. Louis (314-845-8320) and Springfield (417-881-9499). Springfield has space for caskets only if family members are already buried there; otherwise they accept only cremains (ashes.). Five Missouri state veterans cemeteries are in St. James, Higginsville, Springfield, Bloomfield, and Jacksonville. A listing of state veteran's cemeteries can be found at www.cem.va.gov/lsvc.asp. All federal and state cemeteries are well maintained, and beautiful.

The VA does not make funeral arrangements or perform cremations. Families make these arrangements with a funeral or cremation provider. Any item or service obtained from a funeral home or cremation office will be at the family's expense.

Cremated remains are buried or inurned in national cemeteries in the same manner and with the same honors as casketed remains. There is generally a columbarium with niche markers for inurnment of cremains at veteran cemeteries. Cremains can also be buried in the ground and VA cemeteries provide gardens for the scattering of cremains

'Free' plots for vets

There are cemeteries in the Metropolitan Kansas City area that advertise free plots for veterans. In those cemeteries only the plot is free. The government will furnish a marker but the cemetery usually charges for setting the marker. The opening and closing of the grave can run over a thousand dollars. The grave liner may cost several hundred dollars. Private cemeteries do not provide any burial services to the veteran's next of kin.

Burial benefits available for veterans buried in a private cemetery include a Government headstone or marker, a burial flag, and a Presidential Memorial Certificate. No benefits are available to spouses and dependents buried in a private cemetery. Veterans may also be eligible for the following burial allowances:

Service-Related Death. VA will pay up to $2,000 toward burial expenses for deaths on or after September 11, 2001 (up to $1500 for deaths prior to Sept. 10, 2001).

Nonservice-Related Death. VA will pay up to $300 toward burial and funeral expenses and a $300 plot-interment allowance for deaths on or after December 1, 2001 ($150 for deaths prior to Dec. 1, 2001.) If the death happened while the veteran was in a VA hospital or under VA contracted nursing home care, some or all of the costs for transporting the veteran's remains may be reimbursed.

To apply for burial benefits, fill out VA Form 21-530, Application for Burial Benefits. You should attach a copy of the veteran's military discharge document (DD 214 or equivalent), death certificate, funeral and burial bills. They should show that you have paid them in full. You may download the form at http://www.va.gov/vaforms/

Consumer's guide to cemeteries

--- from the Funeral Consumer Alliance's brochure available at funerals.org.

Many people ask us about the costs to expect with a funeral, but they often forget that cemetery expenses are in addition to and separate from funeral expenses. Cemeteries aren't sufficiently regulated in many states. It's important to know exactly what you're guying. Some basics:

Right of interment --- what most people call "the grave." You don't actually buy a piece of property. You buy the right to be buried in a particular space.

Opening/Closing--- The charges to dig the grave and fill it back up. You will likely pay an additional fee for this.

Vault --- also known as an outer burial container or grave liner. They are boxes for your box. There are no laws in any state requiring them, but many cemeteries do. They prevent the ground from sinking as caskets deteriorate over time. No casket, vault or container will prevent the body from decomposing.

Mausoleums---above ground buildings where the casket is placed in a drawer-like space.

Columbariums --- miniature versions of mausoleums designed for urns containing cremated remains.

Perpetual Care --- Most states require cemeteries to deposit a percentage of every sale into a maintenance fund to ensure upkeep of the grounds over the years. Many cemeteries manage their funds carefully, but many have not. The Funeral Consumers Alliance is seeing a rise in the number of cemeteries going broke from either mismanagement, theft of the funds or low returns because of a poor investment market.

Before you buy, get a printed, itemized price list for all services and merchandise. Get a copy of the cemetery's rules and regulations ahead of time. Pay attention to the type and size of monuments that are allowed. Be aware of the cemetery's rules on grave decorations ahead of time. Don't do business with any cemetery that won't provide this information ahead of time.

Think long and hard before you buy a plot ahead of time. What if you move away? It can be quite difficult to sell a grave you no longer need, especially with the cremation rate rising. However, buying ahead may make sense if you have a family tradition, strong feelings about using a specific cemetery or if the cemetery is about to run out of space.

One-of-a-kind book

FINAL RIGHTS Reclaiming the American Way of Death

Final Rights is the definitive book for consumers on the modern funeral industry and how to navigate it. Part investigative report and part practical guide, the book explains in detail the tricks of the funeral trade, and how to avoid being victimized. And for those who wish to take charge of the funeral themselves without using a funeral home Final Rights will show you how, with a chapter on each state's requirements written in plain English. The book by Joshua Slocum, national executive director of FCA, and Lisa Carlson, executive director of the Funeral Ethics organization, is available for $19.95 at www.funerals.org.

Presentations are available

Are you part of an organization that would benefit from an unbiased presentation about important practical aspects of funeral planning? Contact FCA-GKC at 816-561-6322 or email us at fca.gkc@gmail.com. We will line you up with one of our board members for a visit.
